Instructional Guide for Keeping the Log Book

In accordance with the Canada Shipping Act and the provisions of Section 41 of the Ship Station (Radio) Technical Regulations, 1999, a Log Book shall be carried on board vessels with compulsory fitted marine radio installations. The Log Book shall be located at the main operating position of the vessel radio station while the vessel is at sea. It must be available for inspection by any person authorized by Transportation Safety Board of Canada, Transport Canada, a Radio Inspector or a authorized representative of another Administration.

Completion of the Log Book

The Log is divided into two sections plus one appendix. Please read the instructions before completing each section and appendix.

Inspection of the Log Book

It is suggested that the Master inspects each page of the Log Book on a daily basis and countersigns in the space provided.

Retention and Eventual Disposal of the Log Book

The Log Book shall be kept in its original form:

- (a) on board the vessel for a period of not less than one month after the date of the last entry; and
- (b) in a place accessible to a radio inspector for a minimum period of twelve months, which period includes the period referred to in paragraph (a).

Log Books should be finally disposed of in a manner directed by the operating company or the shipowner as the case may be.

Section I

1. Enter all the required informations about the vessel.
2. Enter the name of Owner/Operator or Rescue Society, address and other details.

Section II

1. Incident numbers shall be obtained from JRCC/MRSC upon tasking, during or on completion of an authorized SAR mission and dated.
2. All times will be in local times and inserted in the left hand column provided.
3. Other SAR resources involved shall be entered when appropriate.
4. Auxiliary crew manning the vessel shall be listed.
5. All non-auxiliary passengers on the vessel during a SAR mission shall be listed.
6. All radio messages pertinent to the SAR mission shall be logged.
7. Weather conditions shall be logged for reference.
8. Owner/Operator of CCGA vessel to sign incident/radio Log Book.

Note: Use as many pages as needed to enter information.

Appendix A / CCGA Towing Assistance

CANADIAN COAST GUARD AUXILIARY (CCGA) TOWING ASSISTANCE INSTRUCTIONS

Please Print.

I, the undersigned:

declare being the owner/operator of the vessel:

registered under the license number:

do hereby request that the Canadian Coast Guard Auxiliary vessel:

provides my disabled vessel with towing assistance. In doing so, I declare being of sound body and mind and perfectly aware of the dangers and risks of a towing operation, for myself, for all persons on board the vessel, and for the vessel and its equipment.

I also fully understand the following:

- The towing operation will be to the nearest place of refuge, or to a rendezvous position where the tow can be safely transferred.
- Upon arrival at the nearest place of refuge, the Search and Rescue Unit will release the towline and depart and it will be my responsibility to secure my own vessel.
- If there is a more serious situation elsewhere, the towline will be released or transferred and the towing operation will be ended immediately.
- The Search and Rescue Unit may release the towline and end the towing operation if such operation poses risks to safety of the resource.
- If adequate commercial assistance arrives on-scene, the Search and Rescue Unit may hand over the tow. I will be liable to any charges from that commercial resource.

Note: Please don't forget to fill in the back portion of this form.

- The Canadian Coast Guard or Canadian Coast Guard Auxiliary, the Department of Fisheries and Oceans Canada, the Government of Canada, Her Majesty the Queen in right of Canada and any of their employees are not liable for damages suffered by the vessel, any of its equipment, its owner, master, operator, person in charge, crew or passengers, if the towing operation has to be abandoned, or if the damages occurred despite due diligence and competent work of the master and crew of the Search and Rescue Unit.
